

Esmira Fuad

Doctor of Philology

The 44-day Patriotic War in the literature of South Azerbaijan

Many literary and artistic examples are dedicated to the Second Karabakh War - the Patriotic War, the unique victory won thanks to the monolithic unity of the people and the state and the bravery of the victorious Azerbaijani army, the victory of Shusha.

The collection "44 days of the Patriotic War in the literature of South Azerbaijan" will be an important step in raising the military-patriotic spirit of teenagers and young people.

By financial support of the State Support Agency for Non-Governmental Organizations of the Republic of Azerbaijan and the "Everlasting Turan Book" Foundation the activity of the "44-day Patriotic War in South Azerbaijan Literature" organized by the Public Union within the framework of the project, the balk "44-day Patriotic War in South Azerbaijani Literature" was published in 2022.

Esmira Fuad is the compiler and author of the foreword of the collection "44 Days of Patriotic War in South Azerbaijani Literature" dedicated to the Patriotic War and the reflection of this holy war in literature.

The balk describes the results of the 44-day Patriotic War, the bravery of the Azerbaijani people and their brave sons, our victorious army, and the victory of Shusha, which is a new page in world military art.

The heroism shown by our soldiers and officers in battles, the monolithic unity of the people and the state, the liberation of our occupied lands from enemy slavery, the feelings of pride experienced by the Second Karabakh War, the holy war, did not escape South Azerbaijani literature, and new works were written by writers on the subject.