Qarabağ Azərbaycandır!

let's get to know them. In fact, the book is grouped into 2 sections: Martyrs and Witnesses (or "Still Guarding the Fatherland"). In the articles in the Martyrs section, the biographies of children who sacrificed their young lives for the sake of Karabakh, the paths of war, and moments of martyrdom were written down. In the section of witnesses, it is mentioned about those who saw and understood those moments, and those who guided the souls who ascended to the heavens with their gaze. If the biography of a brave person is given in the section of martyrs, then in the section of witnesses there are "articles" of one or two sentences, or simply pictures "speak" without words, along with extensive articles about those who realized the greatness. They said, "We will not agree to write something about us without paying the debt of the martyrs." We cannot forget the rights of the witnesses who said these words, - we included in the book the letters and heartaches sent by their mothers, sisters, and comrades in arms. In the book, the pictures "spoke" more, the pictures and photos more accurately reflect the ideas that are difficult to understand and say.
