

The turning point of the world - Azerbaijan

The world is changing beyond recognition. But this time, he seems to be changing to a truer understanding of himself. He realizes that the face attached to him is not his own. The world is already fed up with its false tantrums... It has already begun to understand that under the cover of "modern" civilization, bloodthirsty predation is hidden. In the depths of the dullness that cannot distinguish a man from a tooth, the demonic intentions of subduing humanity into a feminist spirit slumber.

The true essence of the world is revealed as the blessed face of the Azerbaijani lands after the occupation, which the Armenians destroyed and turned into ruins. In the arena of global politics, without artillery, without drones, the invincible Spirit of Truth needs to be rooted in a logic modeled on the chivalry of Azerbaijani soldiers who fought single-handedly in the battle of Shusha.

No matter how many conflicts Russia has had with Europe, and in a wider sense with the West since the time of Peter, there are deep-rooted reasons why they reconciled and found a language in Caucasian politics. At the head of these reasons is beekeeping. Although the interests of the United States and Russia are clearly clashing in Armenia today, there is no doubt that they will find an agreement to protect this corner of the Caucasus. Do you know how many Armenians there were in IV-V centuries AD: 3 million! How many Armenians count themselves in many sources, at the same time, on the completely fictitious "https://ru.wikipedia.org/wiki/ Великая\_Армения" website, which everyone can see: 3 million!

In the heyday of the Roman Empire, the population of the city of Rome is estimated to be 1 million. It is possible to believe that the Romans, who had a high culture of statesmanship and administration, were not mistaken. However, which statistics oracle determined the existence of 3 million Armenians in the geography of the mythical map of the "Great Armenia" riveted to the entire Caucasus, which has never been and never will be in history?! So, during the last 1600 years, Armenians did not give birth to the "mule race" alone?! Why did the European (Western) rationalists, who are studying history bit by bit and looking for scientific arguments to confirm its every fact, not see the petrification of this barren society?! They didn't see any wonder that during the historical period (III-VI centuries) when Armenians boasted about "Great Armenia", they were trapped as a satrapy within the Sasanian Empire. Of course, they saw it. In fact, they are the authors of this historical blindness. Over the past 300 years or so, Europe has laid the foundation for world colonization through an alliance of imperialism and perverse research. Western development, which is envied today, is not built on its own foundation, but mainly on the wealth imported from the non-Western world. The expansionist ideology of European imperialism was established to justify their planetary domination on the basis of aristocracy - the superiority and superiority of the Aryan race of mankind.
