

Prowess of the Azerbaijani army

A month has passed since the start of the second Karabakh war. Armenian troops invaded is gradually retreating from the occupied territories. The successful military that is currently going on along the front

As a result of the operations, the long-standing "status quo" and the front line no longer exist.

As the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan and Commander-in-Chief Ilham Aliyev noted:

"A new situation has arisen in the region, and Armenia should take this into account."

It should also be noted that starting from the first days of the war, Azerbaijan is facing an information war not only on the front, but also at the same time. The enemy has been spreading a lot of disinformation to confuse the world community and involve third countries in the conflict by expanding the scope of the war. As a result, our country was pressured by foreign countries to refreeze the conflict. In such a situation, the leadership of our country faced another problem.

It can be said that by giving interviews to various foreign mass media, the head of our country skilfully addresses this problem and provides information about Azerbaijan's rightful way of fighting the Patriotic War. In his interviews, the President and Commander-in-Chief of our country, Ilham Aliyev, directs the opinion of the world community towards Azerbaijan with his well-founded and logical answers about the restoration of territorial integrity of the Republic of Azerbaijan within the framework of international legal norms and the implementation of the resolutions of the United Nations Security Council. Information about the activities of the Azerbaijani army and the provocations of Armenia is also conveyed to the military attachés working in the embassies and embassies of foreign countries operating in our country. Thus, the country's leadership regularly informs the leaders of foreign countries about the events taking place in the conflict zone and about Armenia's terrorist policy. On the other hand, the success achieved by our army on the front line is also the result of the perfectly organized strategy of the country's leadership.

It should be noted that military operations are currently being conducted against the enemy, which has created a defense line and installed bunkers and other huge defense structures for 30 years. In addition, conducting battles in mountainous areas and complex terrains creates certain difficulties for our army. However, as we have seen, as a result of the events that took place in the last few days, the defense line provided by the enemy in the occupied territories for years was removed by our army, and the myth of "invincible Armenian army" came to naught. Advancing along the entire front line, the victorious Azerbaijani army clearly demonstrates to Armenia and the whole world the perfect, unprecedented tactics and the war of the 21st century. During the battle, the Azerbaijani army uses unmanned aerial vehicles widely and massively for reconnaissance and strike purposes, actively testing modern weapons that minimize civilian casualties, have selective capabilities, and destroy targets with high precision. At the same time, the high level of military coordination of troops managed under a single command, well-educated military planning, and the perfect organization of the management and communication system ensure the success of our army. The successful military operation of the Azerbaijani army and the tactics of conducting a new type of war are mainly related to the use of unmanned aerial vehicles. Such a successful and thought-out tactic reduces the advance of the Azerbaijani army to the minimum level of losses of live military forces, inflicts serious blows on the military equipment and live forces of the enemy, and leads to the destruction of the enemy. At present, the achievements and new tactics of our army are carefully monitored, studied and adopted by other countries.
